

A.S.P.E.N. Honors International Researchers
at Clinical Nutrition Week 2014 (CNW14)
Saturday, January 18 – Tuesday, January 21, 2014
Savannah, Georgia, USA

International Poster Showcase

International researchers submitting abstracts for CNW14 may opt-in to present a poster at A.S.P.E.N.'s new International Poster Showcase. This networking opportunity allows abstract authors to present their research to A.S.P.E.N.'s 2000 attendees during the CNW reception on Saturday, January 18 from 6:00-7:00pm. International posters will remain on display during the entire conference. Presenting authors of accepted international abstracts will receive a personalized email invitation to present at this lively showcase.

Even if the author's research is accepted for oral presentation during the CNW program, the author may, in addition, display a poster. High-scoring original abstracts may earn recognition of "Best International Poster" or "International Poster of Distinction", and all accepted abstracts will be published in the Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition online. Details are on A.S.P.E.N.'s website.

Benefits of participation:

- The presenting author of each accepted abstract will receive a personalized invitation to present at this Showcase. This is frequently useful in obtaining funding to attend CNW or a travel visa.
- A.S.P.E.N is in process of gathering some of our multi-lingual members to assist in conversations between the authors and other CNW attendees. This will facilitate communication for those authors with limited English speaking skills.
- High scoring abstracts may earn Certificates of Accomplishment for Best International poster or International Poster of Distinction.
- Original International abstracts will be published in JPEN, Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition. Previously published or presented (Encore) abstracts may display, but cannot be re-published.